Crosswinds, Station Road, Isfield, Uckfield, TN22 5EY Guide Price £700,000

Light and airy capacious family living is found throughout this beautifully presented four-bedroom detached house, that is conveniently located centrally within the sought after village of Isfield. Within immediate walking distance of amenities that include the Laughing Fish public house, Isfield Farm Shop and Village Store, Village Hall, St Margaret of Antioch Church along with the Lavender Line heritage steam railway.

Crosswinds is a handsome village house ideal for families or active downsizers alike, we understand was built in the late 1980s, of brick built cavity walls to first floor level, with upper parts constructed of breeze block with attractive tile hung outer, all under a pitched clay tiled roof.

This fine home has been considerably and thoughtfully reworked by the incumbent owners. Of particular note, is the hand crafted and fitted oak stairwell leading to a galleried landing, engineered oak floorboards throughout the entrance hall and sitting room, the recessed fireplace (Sitting Room) with historic mantle and stone hearth, attic space ideal as a hobbies room with bespoke detached garden studio with electric light and power.

Located in the sought-after village of Isfield, just over six miles from Lewes, is this welcoming and substantial detached family home. Occupying a choice location in the heart of this peaceful village that is both welcoming and tranquil. Immaculately maintained, Crosswinds offers spacious and versatile accommodation, private walled rear garden with broad sun terrace that enjoys a southerly aspect backing on to the village allotments and thereafter open countryside, enhanced by a detached timber artist's studio and a detached single garage. Perfect as a family home or for active downsizers, it benefits from regular bus connections to both nearby Uckfield and the East Sussex county town of Lewes.
