COED DERW

Coed Derw

Llanbedr | Merionethshire | LL45 2LH

There is so much more to Coed Derw than initially meets the eye including a surprise at the top of the garden!

On first glance it is an incredibly well presented, unique architecturally designed property with sensational kitchen/diner and stunning lounge both opening on to a large balcony with beautiful woodland views. Not immediately apparent though is that it is set over 3 floors with generous accommodation and the opportunity to develop further.

Please carry on reading to fully appreciate the accommodation and opportunity this unique home offers.

Firstly, a large parking area with space for multiple cars, boats etc plus lawned gardens.

Secondly is the basement (in effect the ground floor) consisting of 5 rooms , 2 external doors, one window, power and lighting and concrete floors. Perfect for a workshop, conversion to garage or development opportunity subject to planning.

Thirdly not only are there two stylish double bedrooms, one with dressing room, plus a Jack and Jill bathroom, but also a carpeted and plastered attic room with roof light windows, lighting and power.

Fourthly the surprise at the top of the garden. The property has lovely rural and woodland views but at the top of the garden there are sensational and far reaching sea views across Cardigan bay and the Llyn Pensiynular.

The location is outstanding, within a few minutes walk of the popular Llanbedr village centre yet tucked away down a quiet lane away from the hustle and bustle with woodland and river walks from the doorstep and of course the beach in close proximity.

In addition there is underfloor heating throughout the first floor and the property has a high energy efficiency score (EPC C).
