Workshop/Studio

37'4" x 15'1" (11.4 x 4.6)

The driveway runs up to the large detached artist studio/workshop which was previously built as a stable but has also been used as an art studio having excellent light from the four double glazed windows to the front which look over the gardens and to the coast.

It is very private to the house and has stunning views. The building is of block construction with concrete floor and polycarbonate roof over a wooden frame. In need of some upgrading it has power and water connected. Attached to the workshop is a large store room.

Stone Outbuildings

In addition in the grounds there is a stone built log shed and also a stone built tractor and equipment room.

Static Caravan

Just beyond the workshop is a static caravan with water, drainage and electric connected and incredible sea views.

The caravan is an old style 2 bedroom Atlas Festival 29 and has seen better days but being fully serviced could easily be replaced by a new caravan or mobile unit etc and provide useful overflow accommodation or be the perfect location for a garden room.

Gardens

The property sits in approximately 2.34 acres.

A large gravelled gated driveway leads to the house and up to the workshop.

There are expansive lawns around the house plus sun patios, an orchard with apple and pear trees, and a vegetable garden and fruit cage. At the top of the garden there is a stream that babbles along the stone wall. The grounds are totally enclosed by stone walling and hedging and have stunning rural and coastal views.

A separate paddock to the rear also has a gated entrance off the lane so this can be completely separated from the house.

A notable feature of the acreage around the property is that unusually there are NO public footpaths crossing this private land.

Paddock

The paddock is completely self enclosed and has a gated entrance off the lane as well as a gated entrance to the garden. This land is suitable for grazing.

Additional Information

The property is freehold. It is connected to mains electricity and water. Drainage is to septic tank which is registered with Natural Resources Wales.

The owners have recently installed solar panels with battery back up which supply power directly to the house, and there is also oil fired central heating supplemented by the new log burning stove in the lounge. All the windows to the front have been replaced by UPVC units.
