The location was the initial draw for the owners of this gorgeous home. Set down the end of a long driveway, it's next to a medieval church and spectacular 17th century hall, with gardens leading down to a stream and farmland, plus open countryside around. Life here is peaceful and relaxed, with easy access to London.

Rich In History

The property is the former Coach House for the hall and over the centuries has been used as stabling, storage, and offices for the farm. It was converted around 20 years ago by the owners of the hall with great care and love, and an eye for design. The neighbouring Frenze Hall is a Grade II listed property dating back to the early 17th century. "We can see the hall from our home but also look out over the church which dates back to the 14th century. It's still used for a candlelit Christmas Carol Concert and is cared for by the Churches Conservation Trust," explain the owners.

High Standard

"When we came here everything had been done to the highest standard and was well looked after so we have put our own stamp on the house but haven't needed to do major works inside," the owners add. There's also a flexible additional reception area with a wood burning stove, that the owners use as a study/ music room. The whole dwelling is beautifully proportioned with high ceilings and wide doorways that add to the sense of openness and make it wonderfully airy. Furthermore, there is a planning consent to add additional space.

KEY FEATURES

Step Outside

They love entertaining here and have filled the house with friends and family on many occasions for BBQ's and birthdays. The open plan kitchen living area is perfect for social gatherings, with two sets of double doors that spill out onto the courtyard, and with a bifold door leading out onto the rear garden, meaning the inside and outside space become one late into summer evening.

Idyllic Country Living

The courtyard garden has views over the church. It's south facing and incredibly sheltered, creating a real sun trap. It's also completely enclosed so it's safe for children and dogs. To the other side of the property there's an enclosed lawned area, raised decking, with a light and airy access to a generously sized office and with a strip of land leading down to the stream beyond. "Children love it here – you can paddle, fish with nets, watch the birds and more. If you fancy yourself as a Wim Hoff you can also immerse yourself in cold water therapy, with the water in winter touching zero" smile the owners. "There's plenty of wildlife to spot, including regular sightings of deer, barn owls, buzzards, and butterflies. Being so far from a road and surrounded by countryside, there's no traffic noise apart from the odd passing tractor, while on clear nights you can stargaze with no light pollution. There are two long distance footpaths near here – the Angles and Boudicca Ways – so it's popular with hikers, but also great for running and biking.

INFORMATION

On The Doorstep

The village of Scole is located on the River Waveney border with Suffolk, approximately 19 miles south of Norwich. The village is equidistant from the Suffolk towns of Ipswich and Bury St Edmunds (both approximately 20 miles). Scole benefits from numerous local amenities including a well-equipped general store, a pub, The Crossways Inn and The Scole Inn Hotel with restaurant. Further restaurants can be found at The Oaksmere Hotel at Eye or The Burston Crown, Burston for pub food, and are around 3.5 miles away from the property. If you fancy a walk, you can saunter a mile to The Ampersand Taproom and Brewery for freshly brewed beer and street food.

How Far Is It To

For a wider range of facilities, the market town of Diss is located only 3 miles away. Diss is renowned for its bustling town centre, which enjoys a range of shops, eateries, and traditional markets. The market square, with its historic Corn Hall, serves as a focal point for local events and exhibitions. Diss is also served by a selection of supermarkets, schools, and a mainline railway station with direct services every 30 minutes into Norwich, around 17 minutes journey time and London Liverpool Street within 90 minutes.

Directions
