Kings Langley is split between the two local authorities of Dacorum and Three Rivers. Kings Langley is ideal for commuting into London by both rail and road. The M25, M1 and A41 are on your doorstep whilst Kings Langley train station is only a short walk or drive away. From Kings Langley station you can be in central London in approximately 30 minutes.

Historic Kings Langley
Kings Langley was the birth-place of Edmund of Langley, 1st Duke of York (1341-1402), 4th surviving son of King Edward III (grandson of Edward I), whose tomb survives in All Saints Church. The body of King Richard II, eldest grandson and successor of King Edward III, was buried here after his probable murder at Pontefract Castle in 1400. It was later removed to Westminster Abbey, next to the Palace of Westminster. During the Second World War, the village was home to the secret headquarters in Britain of the Polish Underground army based at Barnes Lodge just off the Hempstead Road near Rucklers Lane.
