RIDGEWAY
HOUSE

An Exemplary Grade II Listed,
Five Bedroomed Georgian Home

Welcome to Ridgeway House

A rare opportunity to purchase a piece of history nestled within Ridgeway village on a sizeable quarter of an acre plot. Ridgeway House is an exemplary Grade II listed Georgian residence which boasts five bedrooms and a wealth of elegant, original features that create distinctive period charm.

Encapsulated within the walls of this stunning home are parts of history that date back to 1792, when the property, locally named 'Lion House', due to the marble lions sitting proudly in the front garden, was built by Ezra Hutton who was a local scythe and sickle manufacturer. Over the years it has been used for various purposes, including a girls school and doctors surgery, of which the doctors wooden desk is still in situ in the lounge. Ridgeway House was later purchased by the current owners some 40 years ago, where it was converted from two houses back into one, whilst uncovering and restoring all of its intricacies to their original glory. Since then, it has been lovingly maintained as a family home where memories have been created and cherished.

Throughout the three floors of Ridgeway House are many character features, including sash windows with wooden shutters, exposed timber beams and beautiful stone and cast iron fireplaces. Some of the artefacts around the property and its gardens, such as engraved and symbolic stones, are believed to have been salvaged from the Church down the road.

On the ground floor are four generously proportioned reception rooms, along with a splendid orangery that is filled with natural light and a kitchen with an adjacent snug. The kitchen is fitted with traditional oak units, granite work surfaces and features the original fuel-fired range oven, which is now decorative. The first floor is accessible from an inner hall by the main double winding staircase or alternative secondary staircase from the music room. Three bedrooms and a luxurious family bathroom occupy the first floor, with one of the bedrooms incorporating a marble-tiled en-suite shower room. The principal bedroom suite containing an en-suite bathroom and a walk-in wardrobe sits on the second floor, presenting a peaceful retreat. There is also an exceptionally large room across the landing, which offers scope for sectioning into two bedrooms, adding another bathroom, a home office, library or a further sitting room.

The remarkable grounds of Ridgeway House are what make it truly special. A formally laid garden is positioned to the front of the property, adding impressive curb appeal with its neatly manicured lawns, mature trees and central stone path that leads the eye to the main entrance door. Flanking the path are two Italian Carrera marble lions, believed to have come from The Great Exhibition circa 1700/1800's.

Steeped in History over Many Centuries, Ridgeway House Presents a Unique Opportunity to Become a Custodian of a Magnificent Residence

To one side of the home is ample off-road parking within a gated, stone flagged driveway and a detached double garage. A traditional English rear garden provides a tranquil escape, containing various areas for seating, Derbyshire stone trough planters, a pond and established greenery including fruit trees and cherry blossoms. At the top of the garden is a detached two-storey coach house that could be utilised as an office or hobby room.

Ridgeway is a quaint village in Derbyshire which has a range of amenities such as two public houses, a primary school and a highly rated fine dining restaurant. For those who enjoy sports, there is a sports and social club and a tennis club within walking distance, and also a golf course nearby. Because Ridgeway is surrounded by countryside, there are many opportunities for scenic walks, including the ancient woodlands and meadows of Moss Valley. The property is a short drive to Sheffield city centre, the Peak District National Park and M1 motorway for journeys to major cities.
