OUTSIDE:

Access to Tewennow is via gated driveway off Porthilly Lane. Set in an elevated position on a generous plot of approx. 0.28-acres, there is ample parking for multiple vehicles and/or boat storage, alongside an integrated double garage and store. The pretty garden features a lawn with two small ornamental ponds, and a charming summer house, all surrounded by mature planting, flowering borders, and established shrubs - creating a private and peaceful outdoor retreat. Closer to the house there are several patio terraces to enjoy the sunshine and the views across the estuary and garden.

LOCATION:

From Tewennow you can walk down to Porthilly Cove, a quiet, sandy beach on the Camel Estuary that is perfect for dog walking, swimming and kayaking. The award winning Porthilly Oysters and mussels are also farmed here in the estuary's clear tidal waters. At low tide the beach connects to Rock, one of Britain's best loved and most exclusive waterside resorts with a regular passenger ferry across the water to picturesque Padstow harbour. The estuary provides a wonderful playground for sailors and water sports enthusiasts alike, with moorings and regular dinghy and shrimper races organised by the Rock Sailing Club. Activities for all ages are on offer at Camel Ski including waterskiing, wake surfing and paddle boarding. The Southwest Coast path hugs the spectacular North Cornish coast and offers access to nearby Daymer Bay, a gently sloping beach ideal for families and young children that transforms into a kite & wind surfing mecca, when conditions allow. Just around the headland, Polzeath, is one of Britain's finest surfing beaches. Off the water, St. Enodoc Golf Course lies just 1-mile down the road, set in a spectacular location with dramatic estuary views towards Stepper Point. For food lovers, there are a wealth of excellent restaurants and pubs including The Dining Room, The St Enodoc Hotel and The Mariners Pub in Rock, Nathan Outlaw's Fish Kitchen in Port Isaac, and Rick Stein's Seafood Restaurant and Paul Ainsworth's No. 6 across the water in Padstow. Approximately 6-miles from Porthilly, the market town of Wadebridge offers a wide range of supermarkets and independent shops.
