Ghyllbank

North Road, Ambleside

Ghyllbank is a charming, traditional stone-built detached property and commercial unit nestled in a picturesque riverside location. This delightful three-bedroom home has the advantage of an excellent commercial premise, making it an ideal space for designers and makers. With its well-preserved and spacious layout, reminiscent of a classic Lakeland cottage, Ghyllbank offers a perfect choice for either a permanent residence or a holiday home/let. Interestingly, historical records suggest that the property might have served as a brewery in the 17th century and later, from 1860 to 1991, it operated as a local printing factory. Significant improvements have been made to the commercial building, creating exceptional premises with A1& B1 usage classification.

The property offers a promising opportunity for a renovation project, as previous owners have taken steps to seek planning permission for converting the commercial unit into four three- bedroom properties. The available space within the property provides a good amount of room for a potential remodel.

Ghyllbank enjoys a prime location at the heart of Ambleside's conservation area, offering easy access to the main village area just a mere 30 seconds away. The village is adorned with a diverse range of charming shops, warm and welcoming cafes, and unique artisan boutiques. It features a variety of intimate tearooms, family-operated eateries, and lively pubs that serve up delicious and hearty cuisine. Nestled in a picturesque riverside setting along Stock Ghyll, the property provides convenient parking, well-maintained gardens, and captivating views overlooking the river towards the stunning Loughrigg landscape.

Accommodation

Upon entering through the front entrance, you'll be welcomed by a hall featuring a slanted roof and a slate porch, providing an ideal space for storing shoes and outdoor essentials. A well placed window faces the kitchen, allowing natural light to filter through. The hall seamlessly leads to the front door to:-

Living Room

17'9 x 13'6 (5.40m x 4.11m)

A bright lounge thanks to the expansive partially glazed bay window that offers views towards Loughrigg. On colder days, the slate open fire provides comforting warmth. Conveniently, a cupboard houses the hot water tank and offers additional storage space. Four wall mounted lights illuminate the area, while a handy ledge above the door frame to the hall presents more storage opportunities. Additionally, the room is equipped with TV and telephone points for your entertainment and communication needs.

Dining Room

16' x 13'3 (4.87 x 4.03m)

The dining room space offers remarkable versatility. Abundant natural light fills the room, courtesy of the dual aspect windows that provide picturesque views of the river and the sky lights from the ceiling. The charm of exposed wooden beams across the ceiling adds character to the ambience.

Kitchen
