Badsworth Gardens & Copperbeech Place

Badsworth Gardens and Copperbeech Place are situated in a well-established residential area on the south-western approach to the town, and with extensive woodland screening on the fringes of the estate a sense of peaceful seclusion is created. The redbrick cottages and apartments, with conservatories and balconies, surround an attractive garden square.

The estate is within easy reach of the centre of Newbury, which has all the amenities one would expect in a bustling English market town: major stores such as Waitrose, interesting independent shops and numerous restaurants, cafés and pubs. An open-air market is held twice weekly. There are two respected local theatres, the Corn Exchange and the award-winning, professional repertory theatre the Watermill, as well as several golf courses, health clubs, and a cricket club. The town is also home to one of England's major racecourses. Highclere Castle, better known as 'Downton Abbey' since the eponymous TV series, is only 4 miles away, and both the Kennet and Avon canal and the River Kennet pass through Newbury offering beautiful riverside walks.

Cognatum Estates Limited provides the services and amenities shown below together with the maintenance, repair and insurance of the buildings, personal alarms, window cleaning and refuse collection. The cost of providing these services is shared equally between all properties.
