Barton Farm

A magnificent 14th-Century Grade I tithe barn, with beautiful square-knapped flints, is the backdrop for Barton Farm. The old courtyard retains much of its serenity and charm, and the dairy and coach house, the stables and Molly's barn, where chickens used to live, are all now converted into delightful properties. There are more cottages, all with conservatories, around a second courtyard that leads on to The Folly and village centre. Alongside the landscaped gardens runs the river Cerne, in reality little more than a chalk stream, and several acres of meadowland to enjoy.

Cerne Abbas is set in some of the most beautiful Dorset countryside and is best known for its Giant hill figure, now owned by the National Trust. The village has a variety of shops, pubs and restaurants and hosts a popular annual music festival in the lovely setting of St Mary's church. This is the heart of Thomas Hardy country, and the tithe barn next to Barton Farm is believed to feature in his works. Dorchester, with its bars and bistros, interesting museums, glorious gardens and river walks, is not far away, and the incredible beaches at Lulworth, Chesil and Weymouth Coves can be reached within 30 minutes.

Cognatum Estates Limited provides the services and amenities shown below together with the maintenance, repair and insurance of the buildings, personal alarms, window cleaning and refuse collection. The cost of providing these services is shared equally between all properties.
