This handsome semi-detached Victorian house is perfect for a growing family. With five bedrooms and two reception rooms there is plenty of space for the whole family to enjoy. This property is not to be missed.

The house is arranged over three floors and is has been well extended on all levels. There are pretty period features throughout the property; high ceilings, cornicing and marble fireplaces. Downstairs has two reception rooms, a cloakroom, a dining room and an extended kitchen. We love the doors that open onto the courtyard garden from the dining room.

The first floor has two double bedrooms, a study and a family bathroom. The third floor has been converted and provides three further double bedrooms with a shower room, we think that this is an ideal floor for the children. The garden is south-facing and nicely landscaped.

Located in the desirable Baronsfield Road, in the heart of St. Margarets village, this property is well located to benefit from a choice of outstanding primary and secondary schools. St. Margarets Station, Marble Hill Park and the villages shops, cafés and restaurants are all nearby.
