Amyand Park Road, TW1

This gorgeous two double bedroom garden maisonette is a real treat for the market, we know you are going to love it as much as we do. The property is presented in excellent condition throughout and comes with share of the freehold and side garden access. When would you like to view?

The property comes with its own private entrance leading onto a bright and spacious full width living room with a large bay window to the front of the property. The bathroom and kitchen are in fantastic condition with smart fitted units and mod cons. The hallway is wider than average allowing an extra space for a study area or reading corner.

The property continues to impress outside onto the private patio garden, which provides an excellent seating and BBQ area, surrounded by an attractive and well planted border. The private garden extends onto the communal gardens which also offers side access.

Amyand Park Road is located in the heart of St Margarets Village, just off the high street with its boutique shops, cafés and train station which has links into London Waterloo. Twickenham Station with its fast line to London Waterloo is a short stroll away in the opposite direction. Within the catchment area for local OFSTED outstanding primary and secondary schools. Marble Hill Park and the River Thames are also close by.
