A rare opportunity to acquire a local home of historical importance, which has undergone sympathetic restoration to provide flexible three bedroom, two storey accommodation of immense charm and character.

Built in the 1600s, this intriguing Grade II listed 17th Century oak framed cottage provides more than 1,800sq.ft of beautifully restored accommodation over two floors. The owners have worked in the building trade and interior design for several years so it's been really smartly decorated to ensure that the personality hasn't been lost. As you enter, you won't miss the original wooden ceiling beams and stone flooring. There are two reception rooms both with the original large brick fireplaces, a separate kitchen refurbished in keeping with the style and dining area with doors out to a generous south facing garden. When looking back from the garden at the house, you'll feel as though you are tucked away in a Cornish village. The ground floor is complete with a utility room and cloakroom. Upstairs, there are three double bedrooms and two bathrooms with one acting as an en-suite for the guest bedroom. Externally to the rear, the garden is great for family living with a cosy seating area and lawn. You are set back and screened from the main high street so you really benefit from a fantastic location right on your doorstep without seeing it. Situated in the heart of Central Teddington moments from Teddington Lock and the river Thames the property is a skip away from the high street boutiques and coffee shops, transport links and fantastic schools.
