Local Area

Baldock is an historic market town, it has a population of around 10,000 and is situated within the district council area of North Hertfordshire and the county of Hertfordshire.

Predominantly a commuter town for London, it enjoys excellent communications via the A1 motorway and the railway from Kings Lynn and Cambridge which meets the main east coast line at Hitchin terminating at London Kings Cross, circa 35-45 mins.

Even though it is the smallest town in North Herts district, it has many architecturally significant buildings with more listed buildings than any of the others in the district. In fact, it is among only five towns in the whole of Hertfordshire listed by the Council for British Archaeology as being of national importance. Baldock almost runs into the larger Letchworth Garden City, the two lying each side of the A1 motorway.

With its impressive architectural heritage, true to its history as a coaching town and centre of the malting industry, it is still very popular with socialites and party goers. At the same time, it has its own vibrant community life and ancient and attractive shopping environment, boasting excellent restaurants, pubs, bakery and butchers.
