Painswick is one of the most famous villages in the Cotswolds with its wealth of old buildings and glorious surroundings. An official area of outstanding natural beauty, much loved by its residents, Painswick is a welcoming, thriving community with good amenities, almost all of which are on the doorstep of 7 White Horse Lane. These include a general store, pubs, several places to eat, a spectacular church and an 18 hole golf course. Immediately to the north is the Regency Spa town of Cheltenham with excellent shopping and annual Literature, Music and Science Festivals, as well as its famous National Hunt racecourse. The market town of Stroud is less than 10 minutes in the opposite direction with a Waitrose superstore plus three other major supermarkets and an award winning Saturday Farmers' Market. There are regular train services from Stroud mainline station, circa 90 minutes into London Paddington and the capital is under 2 hours by road. The adjacent countryside is a marvellous source of walks, with the Cotswold Way passing nearby and the country lanes popular with cyclists.
