STEP INSIDE

The property is also well placed to indulge in a variety of outdoor activities too, with Chepstow Racecourse, home to the Welsh Grand National, close by along with St. Pierre Golf & Country Club and The Celtic Manor Resort.

Properties of this nature very rarely come to the market; early viewing is therefore recommended.

Nestled in the idyllic countryside, opportunities like this one are a rarity. Much like scenes from "The Holiday," where quaint cottages and picturesque landscapes set the stage, this property emerges as a little gem amongst beautiful landscape. Formerly utilised as a holiday let the property has been meticulously refurbished to retain its charm.

As you step into the property, you are greeted by a traditional stable door that leads you into a practical utility area. Here, functionality meets style, with plumbing, storage, a sink, and exposed stone accents adding rustic charm to the space.

Passing through a quaint latch door, you enter the heart of the home: the kitchen/dining room. This spacious area boasts a dedicated dining or breakfast nook and an array of base and wall storage units.

Equipped with modern appliances, including a single oven, induction hob, and cooker hood along with a fridge, this kitchen is as functional as it is inviting. French doors beckon you to the rear sun terrace, offering countryside views. Exposed stone walls add character, complementing the tiled flooring.

From the kitchen, an open passage leads to an inner hall. Ascend the stairs to the first floor or explore further through latch doors to discover a modern wet room, a testament to contemporary refurbishment. Fully tiled and natural light from a frosted window, it features a wash basin, low-level wc, and a rain shower with floor drainage.

The sitting room, a cosy retreat brims with character. A focal point stone fireplace, complete with a wood-burning stove, exudes warmth. Tiled flooring adds to the rustic ambiance, while a front-facing window frames picturesque garden views.
