Location

Bishopston is one of Bristol's best-known and popular areas, and it really is no surprise why.

The community spirit in Bishopston is palpable, with a diverse population that values inclusivity and a strong sense of local identity. Residents actively engage in neighbourhood events and initiatives, creating a warm and welcoming environment for everyone.

One of the standout features of Bishopston is its tree-lined streets, dotted with an array of independent shops, boutiques, and cafes. Gloucester Road, often referred to as the longest independent shopping street in the UK, boasts a diverse range of local businesses - from quirky bookstores to artisan bakeries, there's always something new to explore.

Bishopston is also home to an abundance of green spaces, providing a welcome escape from the hustle and bustle of city life. Whether you're enjoying a picnic in St. Andrews Park or taking a leisurely stroll through Horfield Common.

For families, Bishopston offers excellent schools such as Bishop Road Primary.

Vendor's Comments

"We fell in love with it the moment we walked in and heard the birdsong and saw how bathed in light the house was. It enjoys a south westerly aspect, with a far-reaching view from the top floor – across the city to Dundry and Lansdowne. The small allotment that borders the rear of the property brings tranquillity and an open feel that we have never tired of. The street itself has a real connected community, with friendly helpful neighbours. As well as a street WhatsApp we also have a ladies book club and we have an annual street party."

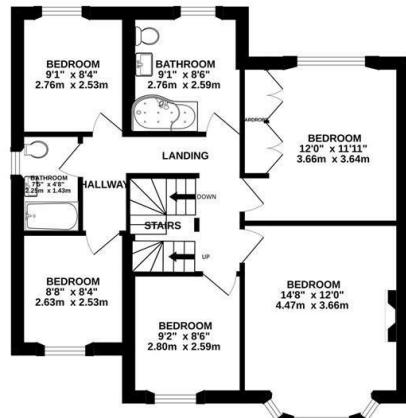

We are only the second owners of this home. The original owner had bought it as a brand-new build in the 1930's, when she was newlywed, moving out and selling to us when she was 99. Somehow that feels special, and in many ways we are sad to be leaving before we're 99 because living in this home and on this street has been fabulous."
