AREA INFORMATION

Cowlersley is an established village location some 2 miles (3.2 km) west of Huddersfield situated within the Colne Valley between Milnsbridge and Linthwaite. Accessed off the main arterial road namely Manchester Road (the A62) and is therefore on good bus routes plus road links for commuters over the tops to Manchester and also near a number of thriving village centers all along the Colne Valley. Including Trans Pennine rail links from Slaithwaite and Marsden. Its main claim to fame is that the former British prime minister Harold Wilson was born and lived in Cowlersley in his early childhood. Open rolling countryside can be found nearby with lots of moorland and reservoir walks in the vicinity. Schools are to be found in the village (primary) and a little further up the hill for the local high school.

PROPOSED PROPERTY INFO

Indicative plans detail a 3 bedroom detached home with a galleried hall and landing with glazed feature curtain walling style design. There are proposed to be two reception rooms including an open plan dining kitchen, lounge, 3 bedrooms (master with en-suite) and a family bathroom. The plot will include extensive gardens and the permission shows a detached garage. Please note that a scheme for the management of water through the site is a condition for the planning. A Rightmove "Best Price Guide" showing comparable data from sales of similar 3 bedroom detached houses is available from the auctioneers office upon request.

VIEWING ARRANGEMENTS

On site during day light hours.

TENURE

We understand that this a freehold interest and the contract pack will detail the title prior to the auction itself.
