We have tried to make sure that these particulars are accurate but, to a large extent, we have to rely on what the seller tells us about the property. Once you find the property you want to buy, you will need to carry out more investigations into the property than it is practical or reasonable for an estate agent to do when preparing sales particulars. For example, we have not carried out any kind of survey of the property to look for structural defects and would advise any homebuyer to obtain a surveyor's report before exchanging contracts. If you do not have your own surveyor, we would be pleased to recommend one. We have not checked whether any equipment in the property (such as central heating) is in working order and would advise homebuyers to check this. You should also instruct a solicitor to investigate all legal matters relating to the property (e.g. title, planning permission, etc) as these are specialist matters in which estate agents are not qualified. Your solicitor will also agree with the seller what items (e.g. carpets, curtains, etc) will be included in the sale.

£560,000

90 Eastbourne Road, Willingdon, Eastbourne, BN20 9NT

Enviably located in Willingdon within walking distance of local shops and Willingdon school, this skilfully extended detached bungalow has three/four double bedrooms and one/two receptions with three bathrooms (one en suite) incorporating an annexe area. Scope also exists for home and income/air bnb use. Presented to a high standard throughout, the property is notable for the impressive kitchen/dining room area with vaulted ceiling, remote controlled Velux windows and bi folds that open onto level and lawned rear gardens. Further benefits include a useful utility room and a driveway to the side where ample off street parking is included. Double glazing and gas fired central heating extends throughout and this versatile property is considered ideally suited for family and extended family usage. Polegate High street with its shops and mainline railway station with trains to London can be found within one mile distant.
