We have tried to make sure that these particulars are accurate but, to a large extent, we have to rely on what the seller tells us about the property. Once you find the property you want to buy, you will need to carry out more investigations into the property than it is practical or reasonable for an estate agent to do when preparing sales particulars. For example, we have not carried out any kind of survey of the property to look for structural defects and would advise any homebuyer to obtain a surveyor's report before exchanging contracts. If you do not have your own surveyor, we would be pleased to recommend one. We have not checked whether any equipment in the property (such as central heating) is in working order and would advise homebuyers to check this. You should also instruct a solicitor to investigate all legal matters relating to the property (e.g. title, planning permission, etc) as these are specialist matters in which estate agents are not qualified. Your solicitor will also agree with the seller what items (e.g. carpets, curtains, etc) will be included in the sale.

£425,000

15 Hill Road, Eastbourne, BN20 8SL

Far reaching views towards the sea and South Downs can be enjoyed from this detached house that has split level accommodation comprising four bedrooms. The property features a stylish fitted kitchen/dining room with mostly integrated appliances and a well appointed bath and shower room/wc and is considered to be in good decorative order throughout. The sitting room also boasts a wood burner and opens onto the lawned rear garden with a further area of decking to the front. In addition, there is a balcony accessed from the main bedroom and a car hardstanding is located in front of the single detached garage. Access to the downland and bus services that run into town can be found just yards away whilst Albert shopping parade and nearby schools including Pashley Down infant school and Cavendish are also in the surrounding area.
