We have tried to make sure that these particulars are accurate but, to a large extent, we have to rely on what the seller tells us about the property. Once you find the property you want to buy, you will need to carry out more investigations into the property than it is practical or reasonable for an estate agent to do when preparing sales particulars. For example, we have not carried out any kind of survey of the property to look for structural defects and would advise any homebuyer to obtain a surveyor's report before exchanging contracts. If you do not have your own surveyor, we would be pleased to recommend one. We have not checked whether any equipment in the property (such as central heating) is in working order and would advise homebuyers to check this. You should also instruct a solicitor to investigate all legal matters relating to the property (e.g. title, planning permission, etc) as these are specialist matters in which estate agents are not qualified. Your solicitor will also agree with the seller what items (e.g. carpets, curtains, etc) will be included in the sale.

38 Farlaine Road, Eastbourne, BN21 1XQ

Having been skilfully extended and lovingly refurbished to a high standard, this impressive detached family home provides versatile accommodation that is arranged over three floors and has five/six bedrooms and two/three receptions. Wood burners are notable features of both the triple aspect sitting room and the well equipped kitchen/dining room where bi folds open onto the front patio. The huge master bedroom is complimented by a stylish En Suite shower room/wc. There is also a luxury bath & shower room/wc and cloakrooms are on the middle and lower floors. Further benefits include a utility room, lawned and patio rear gardens where views towards the sea can be enjoyed and a large garden cabin/workshop. A gated driveway to the front provides off street parking for two/three vehicles. Local schools in Old Town, Rodmill shops and the Eastbourne and District Hospital are all close by whilst the town centre is approximately one and a half miles distant.
