We have tried to make sure that these particulars are accurate but, to a large extent, we have to rely on what the seller tells us about the property. Once you find the property you want to buy, you will need to carry out more investigations into the property than it is practical or reasonable for an estate agent to do when preparing sales particulars. For example we have not carried out any kind of survey of the property to look for structural defects and would advise any homebuyer to obtain a surveyor's report before exchanging contracts. If you do not have your own surveyor, we would be pleased to recommend one. We have not checked whether any equipment in the property (such as central heating) is in working order and would advise homebuyers to check this. You should also instruct a solicitor to investigate all legal matters relating to the property (e.g. title, planning permission, etc) as these are specialist matters in which estate agents are not qualified. Your solicitor will also agree with the seller what items (e.g. carpets, curtains, etc) will be included in the sale

Rostellan, 5 Torfield Road, Eastbourne, BN21 2HN

Occupying an exclusive position within Upperton, this elegant detached house has five bedrooms and two generous receptions whilst retaining considerable character. The property is notable for its wonderful Oak joinery, a sweeping staircase that incorporates a study area on the half landing and the covered rear terrace is accessed from the triple aspect sitting room. The lean to/garden room that runs front to back, offers scope for remodelling and further benefits include a cloakroom, bathroom and separate wc. Delightful lawned gardens with planted borders of flowers and shrubs compliment this outstanding home where parking is provided with a driveway that leads to the detached single garage. There is easy access to Motcombe Village with its eateries, Waitrose supermarket and the charming Gildredge Park. The town centre with its mainline railway station, Beacon shopping centre and picturesque seafront are all within close walking distance.
