We have tried to make sure that these particulars are accurate but, to a large extent, we have to rely on what the seller tells us about the property. Once you find the property you want to buy, you will need to carry out more investigations into the property than it is practical or reasonable for an estate agent to do when preparing sales particulars. For example, we have not carried out any kind of survey of the property to look for structural defects and would advise any homebuyer to obtain a surveyor's report before exchanging contracts. If you do not have your own surveyor, we would be pleased to recommend one. We have not checked whether any equipment in the property (such as central heating) is in working order and would advise homebuyers to check this. You should also instruct a solicitor to investigate all legal matters relating to the property (e.g. title, planning permission, etc) as these are specialist matters in which estate agents are not qualified. Your solicitor will also agree with the seller what items (e.g. carpets, curtains, etc) will be included in the sale.

44 Sturdee Close, Eastbourne, BN23 6AZ

This superbly presented detached home in Langney Point has been extended, and provides versatile accommodation with three/four bedrooms and features a brand new garden cabin/home office. There is refitted and well appointed kitchen/breakfast room with some integrated appliances, whilst the sitting room and adjoining conservatory enjoy lovely views towards the landscaped rear garden. The ground floor study/bedroom 4 offers flexibility and provides access to the cloakroom. A wet room/wc is located on the first floor and a driveway to the side leads to the single garage. Eastbourne's exciting marina development, local shops on Beatty Road and the picturesque seafront are all close by whilst schools serving all age groups can be found in the area. Eastbourne town centre is approximately two miles distant.
