This attractive area of woodland, which totals 12.88 Acres (5.21 Ha), is home to a wide range of native trees and shrubs which provide the perfect habitat for a plethora of wildlife. In spite of its proximity to the village of Lilleshall, the woodland is a haven of peace and tranquility and many varied species have been sighted over the years. A number of well-defined tracks, most topped with hardcore, criss-cross the woodland and these allow this stunning area to be fully examined and appreciated on foot.

To the northeast there is a substantial area of water and this could, with some work, become a well-equipped coarse fishing pool. This has been rented historically by an Angling Club.

A shipping container is located on site and this provides a secure storage space for any tools and equipment. In addition, one tunnel provides storage and is secured with steel purpose made gates.

The woodland is subject to a blanket TPO (Tree Preservation Order) order which protects the trees and, furthermore, is registered as a Local Wildlife Site with Telford & Wrekin Council.

Mining History of the Site

In the 18th and 19th century shallow deposits of limestone were discovered in the Lilleshall and Wenlock Edge area. Over the years the limestone was extensively mined and used to supply industry around the Severn Gorge and Wellington areas as well as providing agricultural lime in the local communities. The remains of one branch of these mining exploits is found within the woodland and includes the limekilns, the slangs, which are now water filled, and the deep kiln. These have been unused since the late 19th century but the redundant workings have great architectural and historical merit. The elevated tramway which serviced the area is still evident and this is now the route of the public footpath.

A local historian was commissioned to prepare a history of the site and his script and drawings will be included within the sale.

Method of Sale

The woodland is offered for sale by Private Treaty.

Rights of Way & Easements

A public footpath runs north to south across the land. Access to the site is gained over a small area of ground which is in third party ownership. The woodland has the benefit of a permissive right of way across this area to access the owned land. An application is pending at Land Registry to legalise this prescriptive right of way.

The property is sold subject to and with the benefit of all rights including rights of way, whether public or private, light, support, drainage, water, telephone and electricity supplies and other rights and obligations, easements, quasi-easements and restrictive covenants, and all existing and proposed wayleaves or masts, pylons, stays, cable, drains and water, gas or other pipes, whether referred to in the Sales Particulars or not, and to the provisions of any Planning Scheme or County or Local Authorities without obligations on the part of the Sellers or their agents to specify them.

Development Clawback

The land is sold subject to a development clawback. In the event that planning permission is granted for residential use on the site within the next 25 years then the sellers or their heirs will be entitled to 10% of the increase in value.

These are based on the Ordnance Survey plans. The information is provided for reference purposes only.
