

Mynydd Hafan , Llanddona, LL58 8UA

£525,000

Situated high above Red Wharf Bay in the popular village of Llanddona, some one hundred metres from its local pub, a mile to the village's unspoilt beach and some 3-miles from the historic town of Beaumaris, is this outstanding, individually designed detached bungalow in a semi-rural non-estate location with far-reaching panoramic views of the Snowdonia mountain range beyond. The bungalow enjoys much privacy within its own grounds, and provides three bedroom accommodation as well as having a large open plan living room with feature archways opening to the dining room and kitchen area with door to the utility room. Off the main bedroom is another enclosed balcony area, dressing room and separate WC.

Another addition is the superb sunroom with Italian tiled floor opening out from double-doors to the composite wrap-around decking area with string lighting around the base, raised on railway sleepers to utilise more of the outside space and views. Space at the front of the property too is completely private, flagged to be a remarkable evening suntrap as the sun arches over the south-facing location.

The bungalow was completed in April 2000, benefitting from oil central heating via the upgraded Worcester combi boiler that was fitted externally in 2023, giving ample heat and hot water, full wood effect PVC double glazing with tilt-and-slide wide double-doors, brass light switches and plug sockets throughout, and detached, three-quarter garage, to include full night-lighting externally which illuminates the front of the property and the garage.
