Description

Staffa House is a charming and substantial guesthouse situated in the picturesque village of Fionnphort on the stunning Ross of Mull in southwest Mull. Boasting spectacular views across the Sound of Iona, this beautifully presented property is just a short walk from the pier, where daily ferries depart for the iconic islands of Iona and Staffa.

Fully renovated by the current owners, the property is offered in immaculate, walk-in condition and represents a superb turnkey lifestyle opportunity. The current configuration provides an easily managed and independent operation, ideal for owner-operators.

The guesthouse features four well-appointed, ensuite letting bedrooms, along with a private one-bedroom owner's accommodation located at the rear of the ground floor. This includes a spacious lounge, fully equipped kitchen, and modern shower room. Guests also enjoy access to a generous lounge and a bright, welcoming conservatory, used as a breakfast and dining area.

Staffa House consistently receives outstanding five-star reviews on both TripAdvisor and Google, reflecting the owners' commitment to providing a warm, comfortable, and high-quality guest experience with exceptional attention to detail.

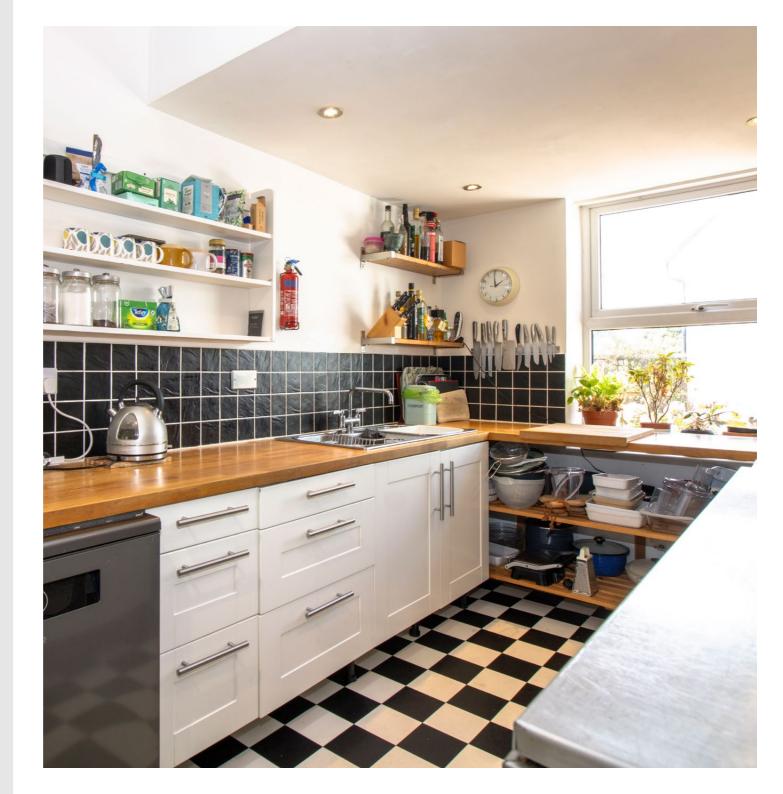

Trade

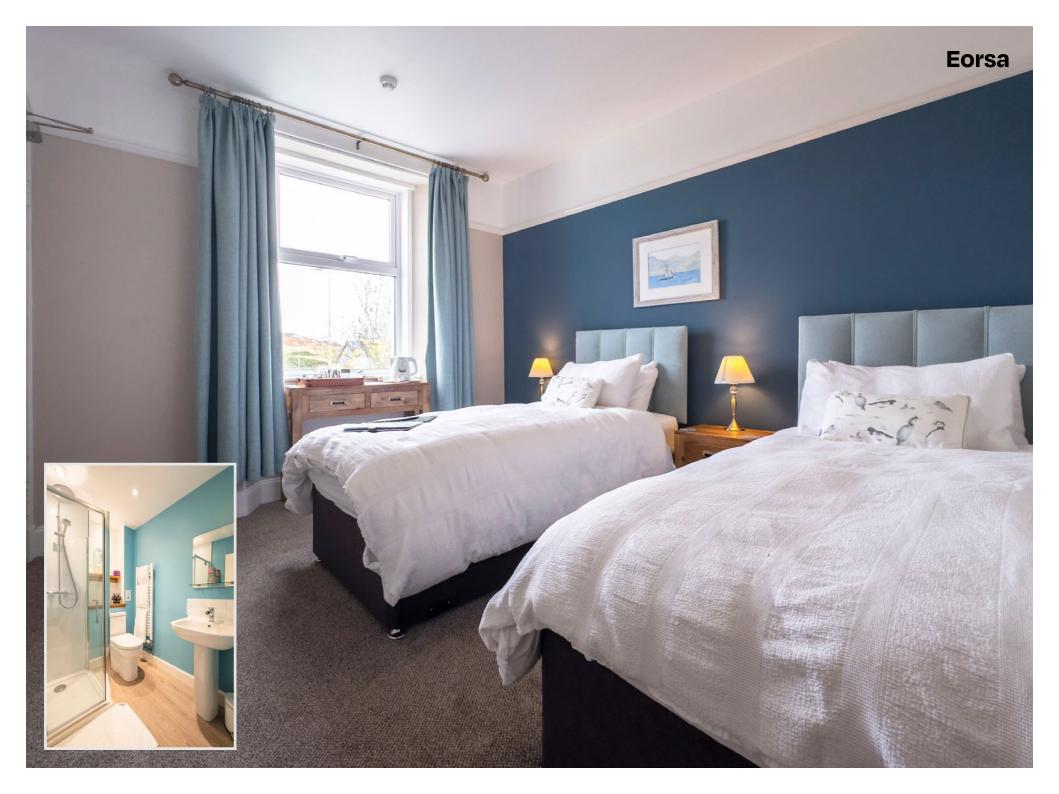

The business is currently operated on a part-year basis, trading from March to October and remaining below the VAT threshold. Despite the limited trading period, it generates a strong level of profitability. There is clear potential to increase revenue through extended opening months or adjusted booking policies, should a new owner wish to expand operations. A two-night minimum stay policy is currently in place, which streamlines the day-to-day running of the business. Bookings are managed through the business's excellent website, www.staffahouse.co.uk.

This property is fully flexible for those who are seeking a lifestyle change without making the commitment to running a Bed and Breakfast operation. Subject to the usual permissions, the current owner's accommodation could be converted to a holiday let, allowing new owners the benefit of a 3 or 4 bedroom house while retaining an income generating business. Alternatively, the whole house could be made into a fully domestic property with the current owner's accommodation suitable as use for an annexe for older or younger family members.

Reason For Sale

The vendors have successfully operated Staffa House since 2017. It is their intention to retire from hospitality due to a change in personal circumstances, that brings this exciting opportunity to the market.

Location

Situated on the Isle of Mull on the West coast of Scotland, Staffa House is located in the lovely village of Fionnphort which is the principal port of the Ross of Mull. This historic village has a strong fishing history, the current industry there being based primarily on crabs and lobsters which are mostly exported to Spain and France. The busy ferry port provides regular sailings to both Iona and Staffa. The famous Isle of Iona, known as the 'Cradle of Christianity' in Scotland is the home of Iona Abbey which is visited by religious pilgrims and tourists alike. Iona is steeped in religious history and is a huge draw to the area with an estimated 130,000 tourists each year. As well as the Abbey and local marble quarry the island has a total of 9 beaches within walking distance of the main area

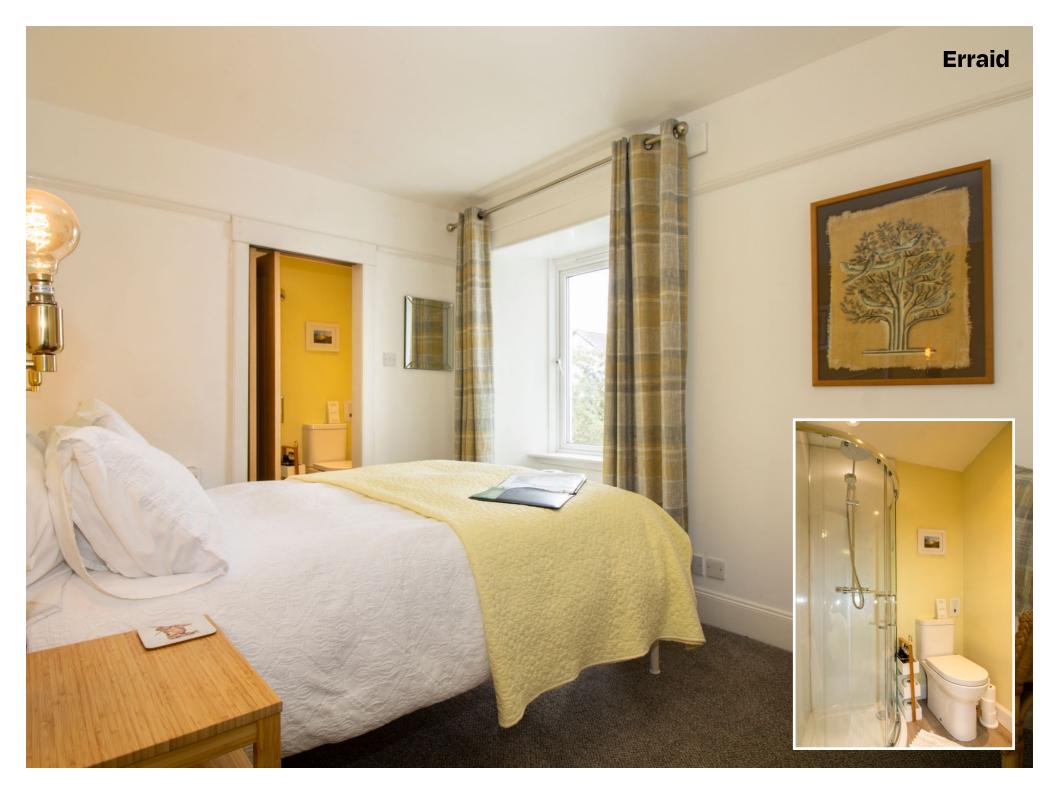

The Island of Mull itself attracts a large number of visitors annually offering sensational Scottish scenery with the most beautiful bays and sandy beaches. Interesting geology, exceptional historical interest, and diverse wildlife makes Mull a dream location as well as offering scenic walks, golf, fishing and horse riding.

The Island of Mull is one of the most accessible Inner Hebridean Islands with car and passenger ferries arriving daily from the mainland, being reached by a 45-minute vehicular ferry from Oban. Services from Lochaline on Morvern and Kilchoan on the Ardnamurchan peninsula are also available. A local bus service covers the Island including Fionnphort, and there is a small airstrip at Glenforsa suitable for private aircraft. A main line train service operates from Glasgow to Oban, with most trains connecting with the ferry.

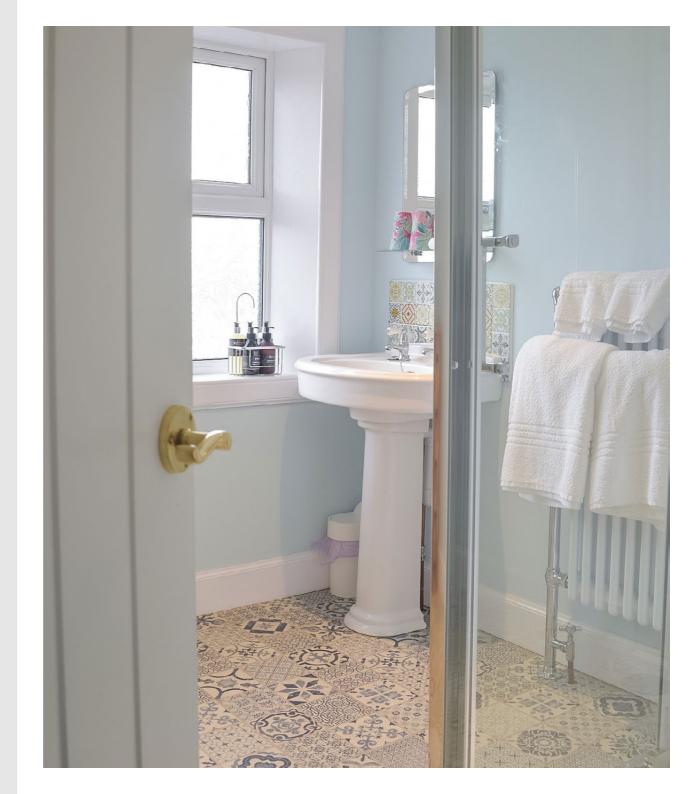

The Property

Staffa House is an exceptional opportunity to acquire a beautifully presented, traditional detached property in one of Scotland's most iconic locations—perfectly placed on the main route to the lona ferry and enjoying breathtaking views across the fields and beach to the lona Sound and the Isle of Iona beyond.

This charming two-storey house, finished in classic white with green accents and a traditional slate roof, has been meticulously maintained and upgraded. It combines the charm of traditional architecture with modern comforts, creating a warm, inviting, and flexible space for a variety of lifestyle and business needs.
