Seller Insight

“ The historic village of Sutton Valence is set on the Greensand Ridge overlooking the Vale of Kent. Just a few miles from Maidstone but with a wealth of amenities being close by, not least of which is its convenient access to railway stations for stress free commutes into the capital. This, three storey, pristine, dwelling located in this village, is set well back from the road and has been the much loved family home for its owner since 1994.

The family were returning to the UK after several years residing in their spacious house in the USA. They searched long and hard for a similar property and were delighted to discover this individual house, newly built and designed to an extremely high specification, with its beautiful garden backing on to open fields. In addition, its convenient position within the village enabled a certain amount of independence for their growing family. Accommodation is generous and well proportioned with plenty of space to pursue hobbies and pastimes, alongside good space for home working or private study. One of its large reception rooms was designated as a 'den' for the younger members of the family who could have friends to visit and enjoy time together, with the second floor providing an invaluable independent space. A particular beautiful feature is the large double doors leading into the dining room from the front entrance which provides an extra welcome to visitors with its stunning outlook into the garden. This is such a wonderful home in which to invite friends and family utilising both the main house and garden. Christmas has always been very special here particularly in the main reception room with the fire aglow in the inglenook and the house and tree are adorned.

Double doors lead from both the living room and kitchen onto the patio and into the totally private garden. There is a special compatibility with this beautiful area and the house, offering the very best of indoor/outdoor living in the summer months. It is a special space in which to relax, enjoy al fresco dining, listen to the birdsong and appreciate the changing seasons.

The house is within walking distance to three outstanding pubs in which delicious meals are served. The village has a strong sense of community with many sociable events taking place from its village hall. Schools, sport amenities, shopping facilities are excellent and both road and rail links are outstanding.

This has been such a happy family home, but it is time for a new adventure in the life of the owner and for another family to unpack and experience the joy of living in this special home in this fabulous location. *
