This presents an interesting and excellent opportunity to acquire a fine corner house used for investment purposes. There are three self contained one bedroom flats and two studio flats. At the present time the vendor informs us that the income is in the region of £24,000 per annum and the properties are all occupied on assured shorthold tenancies. Electric underfloor heating is provided where noted on the sales particulars and there are modern electric key meters. Externally there is a garden to the front and to the rear steps leads up to a garage and parking space. Redruth town is within a few hundred yards and here you will find shops, bus services and a railway station.
