Summary

Full of character and charm, this delightful cottage, dating back to around 1800, is a rare find. Situated in the highly sought-after area of Apperley Bridge, the property enjoys a superb location with easy access to scenic canal walks, a variety of local shops, amenities, and excellent transport links, including the nearby train station.

Stepping inside, the accommodation is both inviting and practical. The lounge, with its beautiful stone mullioned windows, exudes warmth and period charm, while the modern kitchen offers a stylish and functional space for cooking and dining. A useful cellar provides additional storage.

To the first floor, there are two well-proportioned bedrooms alongside the house bathroom. The blend of historic character and contemporary convenience makes this home truly special.

Externally, the property benefits from a charming courtyard-style garden to the front, enjoying a desirable southerly aspect. This space is perfect for relaxing in the sunshine and could also be utilised as off-street parking if desired.

This truly appealing cottage is not to be missed – a perfect opportunity for those seeking a home with both heritage and modern comforts in a fantastic location.
