Spacious, light-filled and stylish. A beautiful Victorian family home with woody textures and original features ideally located between Walthamstow Village and Wood Street.

The large dual aspect, open-plan reception rooms, with engineered hardwood floors and simple décor, set a calm tone that continues throughout the 1,350 square feet of living space. Set over 3 floors and brimming with original features, the whole house is lovingly renovated to a high standard.

To the rear, the kitchen-diner is full of natural light with dark slate floors and solid wood worktops, contrasting with sleek cabinets that pack plenty of storage space. French doors open to the large, lush south-east facing garden, landscaped by the owners. And there's the convenience of a downstairs WC. Upstairs are 3 double bedrooms, including a roomy master bedroom with bay window, fireplace and restored Victorian floorboards. The family bathroom includes encaustic handmade floor tiles and a powerful Aqualisa shower.

An exposed brick wall leads to the large loft conversion, installed in 2019. Flooded with light, it's a quiet, calm space with bespoke storage and a contemporary ensuite, also finished with handmade tiles and high-spec fittings.

It's a quiet but friendly street, with different generations coming together for street parties and play streets. Living here offers much of what you're likely to want within walking distance, including many highly rated primary and secondary schools, such as the much loved Henry Maynard and St Mary's. Acres of nature are on your doorstep with Epping Forest and Hollow Ponds 5 minutes away, and there's a rich variety of independent shops, cafes, markets and pubs in the historical Walthamstow Village or lively Wood Street. Wood Street Overground, which gets you to Liverpool Street in 20 minutes, and Walthamstow Central, for the Victoria line, are both between 10 - 15 minutes' walk. It's all very close, very convenient, very lovely and chain-free.
