Cassington is an attractive village located just off the A40 and approximately 5 miles from Oxford. It has good access to Eynsham, Witney and Woodstock. Within the village are two pubs, a newsagent, garden centre, village hall and primary school. There is a thriving community with a drama group, dance studio and a fine parish church with Norman origins. Eynsham, Woodstock or Oxford offer secondary schooling, shops and other amenities. There are mainline railway stations at Oxford, Bicester and Didcot, with regular services into London Paddington and Marylebone.
