SUMMARY

A commanding and beautifully presented Grade II Listed Georgian residence, dating from the late 18th century, offering five bedrooms and four bathrooms arranged over three spacious floors. Nestled in a picturesque hamlet centred around a historic church, the property lies just 0.75 miles from the heart of Ruthin. While predominantly Georgian in character, some elements may date from an earlier period, blending historic charm with modern comforts throughout.

Accommodation

A welcoming entrance lobby leading into a generous day room, sitting room, formal dining room, study, and a well-appointed kitchen/breakfast room. Additional ground floor amenities include a utility room, cloakroom, and WC.

Entrance Hall

8'11" x 5'11" (2.718 x 1.815)

A wide staircase rises from the hallway, complemented in part by riven stone-effect ceramic flooring. A deep arched recess provides a convenient cloaks area, while a secondary glazed sash window to the front and a panelled radiator.

Sitting Room

13'10" x 11'8" (4.22m x 3.56m)

A light-filled room spanning the full depth of the right-hand side of the house, featuring four secondary glazed Georgian sash windows, two with painted panelling to the sides and beneath. A recessed fireplace with brick lining, raised stone hearth, and cast-iron multi-fuel grate forms a striking focal point. Additional period features include a moulded coved ceiling (in part) and two panelled radiators.

Dining Area

18'2" x 12'7" (5.54m x 3.84m)

Featuring a generous walk-in storage cupboard, an additional enclosed understairs cupboard, and a panelled radiator.

Day Room

15'1" x 15'1" (4.62m x 4.60m)

Situated just off the entrance hall, this charming room features two three-quarter height Georgian windows to the front, both with secondary glazing, allowing for ample natural light. A characterful fireplace with a raised stone hearth, timber supporting beam, and cream enamelled Jøtul multi-fuel stove serves as a focal point. Additional features include a beamed ceiling, TV point, and a panelled radiator.

Study

12'5" x 7'4" (3.81m x 2.26m)

The room has three secondary glazed windows and features an ornate cast-iron fireplace (currently not in use), a central ceiling beam adding character, and a panelled radiator.

Kitchen

13'8" x 11'8" (4.168 x 3.557)

A Shaker-style kitchen, featuring contrasting work surfaces and an inset single-drainer sink with mixer tap. Well-equipped with integrated appliances including a dishwasher and fridge. A plate rail and open shelving provide practical storage with a traditional touch, complemented by attractive tiled splashbacks with decorative motifs. A tiled recess with space for what used to have an Aga, concealed lighting, and a rustic supporting beam. Natural light floods the space through three Georgian-style secondary glazed windows.

Utility Room/Side Hall

13'10" x 8'3" (4.231 x 2.535)

A Worcester oil-fired boiler provides central heating and hot water. The utility area is fitted with base and wall units in a wood grain effect finish, complemented by matching worktops and a single drainer sink. There is space and plumbing for both a washing machine and tumble dryer. A secondary glazed window and panelled rear door allow for natural light and external access and terracotta-style ceramic tiled flooring.
