SUMMARY

Within the picturesque village of Llanbedr Dyffryn Clwyd, this charming three-bedroom detached house offers a unique opportunity to embrace rural living in an area of outstanding natural beauty. Set within approximately 1.2 acres, the property boasts breathtaking views of the surrounding countryside and hillside, making it a perfect retreat for those seeking tranquillity and scenic vistas and set back from the road via a long driveway.

The accommodation features a summer room with breathtaking views, good sized character living room with inglenook and multi fuel burner, dining area and provides ample space for relaxation and entertaining. The kitchen is set within two sections with the addition of a breakfast room off and additional sitting room with ground floor shower room off. Additional benefits of Economy 7 heating and ultra fast broadband.

In addition to the main house, the property includes a good-sized barn, which presents a variety of possibilities, whether for storage, a workshop, or even conversion into additional living space, subject to the necessary permissions, ample off-street parking further enhances the practicality of this delightful home. Also there is a former Bake House, in need of repair.

Conveniently located, the property is just a short drive from both Ruthin and Mold, where you can find a range of amenities, shops, and services. This charming home combines the best of rural living with accessibility to local conveniences, making it an ideal choice for families or those looking to escape to the countryside.

In summary, this former working farm, dating back to approx 1840's, offers a rare blend of character, space, and stunning surroundings, making it a must-see for anyone looking to invest in a slice of Welsh countryside.
