I've been racking my brain how to talk about this family home, on first inspection it could be construed that its just a three bedroom detached home with all of the usual additions but then you go down stairs to find a further bedroom, good sized shower room plus two other rooms which over look the garden. Now we could describe it as a five bedroom or a four bedroom offering a teenagers dream of having literally their own floor. I know as a teenager I would have loved it. So if you an expanding family this is the perfect fit. Situated literally minutes from Bardsea beach and Roy's Ice's I mean come on why would you not view.

Completing this home is an integral garage with workshop, off street parking plus, a good sized kitchen, open plan living/dining room as well as having undergone some recent works including decorating and upgrading to include carpets. Positioned at the end of a cul de sac this family home is now looking for its next lease of life and also comes with an exceptionally good sized garden which would suit someone who enjoys creating beautiful green spaces. Definitely one not to miss.
