About Cawood:

Cawood sits downstream from York on the banks of the river Ouse.

An outstanding village with a superb community feel, boasting the 'Wolsey Way' walk, historic Cawood Castle and 'The Garth', 3 village pubs, a hairdressers and beauty Salon, the Village church - 'All Saints', The Ski club, The Grade II Listed Cawood Bridge - The bridge was opened in 1872: before then the only means of crossing was by use of a ferry.

Dick Turpin is said to have forded the river when he escaped to York, which lies ten miles north of Cawood.

A garden centre with a popular coffee shop and a post office situated in the village store named the 'Pickled Postie', complete the fantastic village facilities.

A regular bus service serves the villages between Selby and then onto York and The Designer Outlet - the No:42 Arriva bus.

Cawood Primary School - Ofsted Rated Good.
