Introduction

This exceptional and bespoke newly built residence is deceptively spacious from initial outside appearances. It cleverly maintains the aura and appeal of the Victorian era yet combines a precise balance of bedroom and reception spaces which effortlessly flow over three storeys. Number Nine is a thoughtfully designed energy efficient home which maximises the beautiful vista as well as bringing the outside within from the beautifully landscaped rear gardens.

Description

The whole of the first floor flows the full depth of the building open plan where neatly positioned windows and roof lights provide an airy feel. A bespoke hand-built kitchen by Brookman's of Smallbone is fully equipped with Miele and Liebherr appliances and is zoned by a large island sweeping to a dining area which in return leads into a spacious living room incorporating a wood-burner plus a balcony, which maximizes the enjoyment of the stunning views. A crittall-style door leads to a spacious Media Room or Snug to offer an independent space. This room also has a vaulted ceiling and rear door with a bridge and steps to allow easy access in to the gardens for alfresco dining and barbeques.

On the top floor is a principal bedroom suite comprising a landing (with a door to close at the bottom of the stairs for privacy), a well-proportioned bedroom area with outstanding grandstand water and countryside views, built in wardrobes, a separate storage room and a tasteful and an en-suite shower room.

On the Ground Floor, off the Hall is a Guest Bedroom Suite, (which could easily be chosen as the principal bedroom), comprising a stylish en-suite shower room, built in wardrobes plus a large bay window capturing the splendid views. The ground floor also has a boot room and utility room with sink and space for 2 appliances and an exceptional family sized bathroom serving two further good-sized double bedrooms.

The Gardens

The rear garden is a real sun trap and is landscaped by independent terraces of differing designs including shrubs, paving and decking to cater for the enjoyment of all age groups. The terraces flow upwards to culminate at a top decked sun terrace where the Pavilion is located. The gardens are designed for ease of maintenance and a haven for relaxing. The gardens capture the all day and evening sun, perfect for alfresco dining.

Off-Road Parking

The front has a resin bound gravel driveway to cater for off-road parking, a luxury that does not exist with the majority of properties located on the waterfront.

The Pavilion

Located at the top of the rear gardens, The Pavilion comprises a room with double glazed French style doors and an en-suite Shower Room with W/C. This area is ideal as an Ancillary Bedroom or enjoyment space such as a Hobbies, Games Room or a perfect 'work from home' Office.

Summary

This desirable home has the potential to provide the owners with a lucrative holiday letting income whilst also being able to enjoy the property themselves via owner booking. Therefore, due to its exceptional quality, energy efficiency with relatively low running costs, and easy to maintain gardens, Number Nine is the perfect holiday home. Equally, due to its accessibility of being within walking distance of local amenities, it's landscaped rear gardens, mesmerising views and parking facilities, this rare opportunity would work brilliantly for those looking to move to this exclusive Cornish coastal village permanently.
