Penolva

Penolva meaning "lookout on the headland" was built in the early 1960's by Dick Wilkins, a personal friend of the Queen Mother and a great sportsman as well as a respected personality in the City of London. Yachting was one of his great hobbies and it is documented that the Queen Mother and other members of the Royal family often visited Wilkins and stayed at Penolva coming ashore from H.M.Y Britannia via the slipway originally built for that purpose. Renovated and modernised a few years ago, this characterful home has influences in its architecture from the arts and crafts period. It's good-sized grounds and terraces are suffused with colour and sparkling light and are zoned with an array of enjoyment spaces whilst offering complete privacy and seclusion.

The Panorama

Individual in its design and located in beautiful and private south to south east facing and relatively level landscaped gardens, as the meaning of this exceptional property's name depicts, Penolva offers uninterrupted and inspiring panoramic water and countryside views that have to be experienced to fully appreciate. The vista extends from Summers Beach, Polvarth Point, the Percuil River with its yacht and boat moorings, the quaintness and magic of St Mawes harbour including Tavern Beach, the beautiful part-wooded countryside on the National Trust owned St Anthony Headland and its Lighthouse which the spans across to Falmouth Bay, the Manacles on the Lizard Peninsula and miles of open sea over the English Channel. On a clear day one can see for 50 miles or more! Falmouth Bay and St Mawes Harbour are a hive of marine activity most of the year: from dolphins, seals, basking sharks, egrets and gannets to all types of marine craft, oyster catchers, super yachts, visiting cruise liners, and captivating local sailing races during the season.

The Gardens

At the Front: There is a pillared vehicular entrance off Lower Castle Road to a Parking Forecourt (for at least four vehicles). Off the parking area is access to the main front entrance to Penolva as well as main access door to Little Penolva. To the side of Little Penolva is a pedestrian gate and steps which lead down to a path to the Courtyard which also allows side access to the rear gardens.

Upper Gardens: A landscaped terrace extends the whole width of the property allowing level "outside to within" access for sun worshippers, relaxing, reading, alfresco dining and barbecues whilst taking in the breathtaking vista. Various footpaths and steps meander down to the lower / foreshore gardens and are inter-dispersed terraces occupied by colourful mature plants, shrubs, and fauna.

Lower Foreshore Gardens: Offering the captivating panoramic views on the waterside and with an aura of the Mediterranean about it, a wide landscaped sun terrace extends the whole width of the gardens and allows ample space for sun bathing as well as alfresco entertainment. To the south western corner is a featured stone built circular seating area. From the Lower Terrace, private stone steps lead down to allow access on to the foreshore as well as the private slipway.
