Description

Built in 1925, this beautifully appointed family house is situated in one of Fetcham's most sought after locations. Set on a quiet and mature 0.58 acre North West facing plot, Derwent House has been superbly remodelled and extended by a local Surrey architect of repute and refurbished throughout to create over 4000 sq.ft of modern, stylish family accommodation. External features include part render, stone cladding and tile elevations with rolled steel double glazed windows, whilst internal features include underfloor heating in kitchen, CAT 5 cabling to principle rooms and air conditioning to west facing bedrooms.

The ground floor accommodation comprises a lovely reception hall with views through to the garden & stylish cloakroom. There are three reception rooms including a double aspect Sitting Room with Kalfire wood burner and family/play room with bay window. The hub of the house is a splendid kitchen/dining/living room featuring a bespoke Thomas Ash kitchen with large central island, large picture windows, sliding doors to terrace, boot room and separate utility room. The third reception room/study is neatly positioned just off the kitchen and enjoys lovely views over the garden and trap door with steps down to the wine cellar.

Upstairs, the 25'3 x 16'6 principle bedroom suite includes a walk in wardrobe, dressing area and large en suite shower room. There are four further double bedrooms (two with modern en suites) and family bathroom.

Outside, a gravel carriage driveway with adjoining lawn provides plenty of off street parking and leads to a double garage with EV car charging and rear personal door to the boot room. Gated side access leads to a wonderful 165' x 100' landscaped rear garden featuring an extensive stone terrace with modern pond and water feature, steps to well maintained lawn, shaped flower beds and garden shed bordered with mature trees and hedging providing a high degree of privacy.
