Hartington is a highly sought-after Peak District village, combining traditional character, beautiful countryside and a peaceful rural setting. The village is known for its attractive stone-built properties, historic charm and welcoming community.

Local amenities include a village shop, doctors, post office, primary school, garage, public houses and places to eat, while the surrounding countryside offers excellent opportunities for walking, cycling and outdoor pursuits. Buxton, Leek, Bakewell and Ashbourne are all within easy reach, providing a wider range of amenities and services.

With its picturesque setting, strong community and desirable rural lifestyle, Hartington is an appealing location for those seeking a countryside home, second residence or rural retreat.

Why We Love This Home !

We love this property, which is every bit as beautiful and charming inside as it is from the outside. The quality of finish complements the character of the cottage perfectly, while the light and spacious accommodation is a particularly appealing feature and something that can be surprisingly difficult to find in a traditional cottage.

Hartington itself is a thriving village, with a fantastic selection of independent businesses and local amenities, while still retaining its welcoming village atmosphere. The property is also ideally placed for enjoying some of the Peak District's finest countryside, with wonderful walks right on the doorstep, including the stunning Wolfscote Dale along the River Dove.

For us, it is the combination of character, quality, space and location that makes this such a special property.
