A Gough Cooper semi-detached house which has been enlarged by way of an extension across the rear and a loft conversion. What was originally bedroom 3 on the first floor has been opened into the landing to provide a useful study but could easily be changed back to a separate bedroom if required. The large ensuite bedroom on the second floor also has potential – other properties with similar loft conversions have chosen to create two large single bedrooms with a separately approached bathroom instead.

The property is just yards from Aldrynton and Maiden Erlegh schools and also close to the University and Maiden Erlegh lake. There are shops available at The Parade with more extensive shopping facilities at the Asda and Marks & Spencer complexes in Lower Earley.

Local bus services run past the University and Royal Berkshire Hospital into Reading town centre, where the main line railway station provides services to Paddington, on the Elizabeth Line, and also to Waterloo which run through the nearby Earley Railway Station.

The M4 motorway can be accessed either at Junction 11, where there is also the A33 south to Basingstoke, as well as Green Park and its new railway station; or at Junction 10 where London then lies approximately 40 miles away and Heathrow Airport approximately 28 miles away
