LOCATION

Towans View is centrally located in the village of Connor Downs, a friendly and well-connected spot in west Cornwall. The village has a relaxed, community feel, with a petrol station with a local shop, pub, primary school, as well as a WI Hall and the popular Trevaskis Farm shop and restaurant, making it a convenient and well-served place to live day to day. Its position just off the A30 also means it's easy to get around, whether you're heading further into Cornwall or commuting nearby. One of the real highlights of living here is how close you are to the coast. Gwithian Beach is only a short drive or bus ride away and is known for its wide, golden sands, rolling dunes, and popular surf conditions. It's also a fantastic spot for walks and sunsets, with sweeping views across the bay towards the iconic Godrevy Lighthouse sitting on its rocky headland just offshore. The nearby town of Hayle adds to the appeal, offering a good range of shops, supermarkets, and places to eat, as well as a train station for easy travel further afield. Hayle's harbour and long sandy beaches make it a lovely place to spend time, and having it so close by gives you the best of both a quiet village setting and easy access to everything you might need.
