Sometimes the best homes aren't the ones that have already been finished, they're the ones that give you the freedom to make them your own.

Tucked away along a quiet road in the rural village of Stow Bridge, this detached two-bedroom bungalow offers exactly that opportunity. Available with no onward chain, it combines comfortable accommodation, a generous plot and plenty of potential, creating an exciting prospect for anyone looking to put down roots in a peaceful village setting.

Set back behind a lawned frontage and mature hedging, the property enjoys a sense of privacy from the moment you arrive. Double gates open onto a generous driveway with ample parking and access to the garage, providing both practicality and convenience.

Inside, the layout is easy to live with and full of possibility. The welcoming lounge forms the heart of the home, a bright and comfortable space centred around a feature fireplace. Sliding doors lead through to the garden room, a lovely additional reception area that enjoys views across the garden and offers a relaxing spot to enjoy a morning coffee, read a book or simply watch the seasons change.

The kitchen sits just beyond, providing a practical workspace today while offering exciting scope for future enhancement. Whether you're looking to refresh, redesign or completely reimagine the space, there's a solid foundation already in place.

Both bedrooms are well-proportioned and versatile, while the shower room serves the home comfortably as it stands.

Outside, the rear garden offers more than you might expect. Fully enclosed and enjoying a good degree of privacy, it combines lawned, gravelled and paved areas to create a space that's both functional and easy to maintain. Whether you're an enthusiastic gardener, someone who enjoys entertaining outdoors, or simply looking for somewhere peaceful to sit in the sunshine, there's room here to shape the garden around your own lifestyle.

The real appeal of this home lies in its potential. Comfortable enough to move straight into, yet offering plenty of opportunity to modernise and personalise over time, it's the kind of property that allows you to create something truly your own.

And with the village amenities, countryside surroundings and no onward chain to consider, it could be the perfect place to start that journey.
