We have tried to make sure that these particulars are accurate but, to a large extent, we have to rely on what the seller tells us about the property. Once you find the property you want to buy, you will need to carry out more investigations into the property than it is practical or reasonable for an estate agent to do when preparing sales particulars. For example, we have not carried out any kind of survey of the property to look for structural defects and would advise any homebuyer to obtain a surveyor's report before exchanging contracts. If you do not have your own surveyor, we would be pleased to recommend one. We have not checked whether any equipment in the property (such as central heating) is in working order and would advise homebuyers to check this. You should also instruct a solicitor to investigate all legal matters relating to the property (e.g. title, planning permission, etc) as these are specialist matters in which estate agents are not qualified. Your solicitor will also agree with the seller what items (e.g. carpets, curtains, etc) will be included in the sale.

13 The Combe, Eastbourne, BN20 9DB

Situated within the highly sought after Ratton Estate, this impressive four bedroom detached residence occupies a generous corner plot at the end of a peaceful cul-de-sac, offering an exceptional blend of privacy, space and lifestyle appeal. Beautifully presented throughout, the home enjoys far reaching views across Eastbourne towards the coastline and the South Downs, creating a stunning backdrop from both the property and its mature gardens. Designed for modern living, the spacious and versatile accommodation is ideally suited to growing families, home working, multi generational living or entertaining. Light filled and well proportioned throughout, the layout flows effortlessly between the living spaces, while a generous conservatory overlooks the established gardens, providing the perfect place to relax and enjoy the changing seasons. Outside, the beautifully maintained gardens offer a private retreat with mature planting and plenty of space for outdoor dining and entertaining. The substantial frontage provides ample off road parking for multiple vehicles, adding further practicality. Additional benefits include two contemporary shower rooms, generous reception areas and a prime location close to excellent schools, local amenities, transport links, golf courses and the open spaces of the South Downs National Park. Combining flexible accommodation, impressive views and an enviable setting, this is a rare opportunity to acquire a substantial family home in one of Eastbourne's most prestigious residential locations.
