Accommodation

The property is approached via paved steps and a gently sloping ramp leading to an impressive covered entrance. A striking pillared porch, complete with courtesy lighting, creates a welcoming first impression. The original solid oak front door, believed to date back to the property's construction, opens into an enclosed entrance porch featuring a single frosted glazed panel.

Entrance Porch

The welcoming vestibule retains its original Victorian decorative tiled floor, featuring intricate patterns and rich colours that beautifully reflect the property's period character. A coved ceiling adds further architectural interest, while the timber detailing enhances the warmth and craftsmanship of the space, creating an elegant introduction to this characterful home.

Entrance Hallway

A timber door with a glazed panel and matching side lights opens into an impressive reception hallway, setting the tone for the elegance and period character that continues throughout the home. Original Minton tiled flooring provides an immediate focal point, complemented by a coved ceiling, central light fitting and radiator. A magnificent original turning staircase rises gracefully to the first floor, creating a striking architectural centrepiece. Original doors lead to the principal reception rooms, enhancing the natural flow and symmetry of the layout. Beautifully proportioned and rich in period detail, the hallway offers a memorable introduction to this exceptional home.

Dining Room

Positioned to the left of the reception hallway, this elegant reception room is currently arranged as a dining room with a dedicated home office area, demonstrating the flexibility of the accommodation. A beautiful cast iron fireplace with a tiled inset and timber surround forms an attractive focal point, complemented by exposed floorboards, high ceilings, decorative coving and a picture rail that enhance the room's period character. Heating is provided by two cast iron radiators which provide incredible warmth on a cooler day and there is an open fireplace. Enjoying a dual aspect, the room is filled with natural light through two impressive bay windows overlooking the front and side elevations. A cast iron column radiator provides heating, while power and data points support modern living. Beautifully proportioned and highly versatile, this space lends itself equally well to formal dining, a sitting room, or an additional reception room, depending on individual requirements.

Lounge

Situated to the right of the reception hallway, the principal living room is an elegant and beautifully proportioned space, rich in period character. A striking Victorian cast iron open fireplace with a decorative tiled inset, stone surround and slate hearth provides an attractive focal point, while high ceilings with decorative coving and picture rails further enhance the room's timeless appeal. A dual aspect, created by impressive bay windows to the front and side elevations, fills the room with natural light and offers pleasant views of the surrounding grounds. Heating is provided by two column radiators, and the room also benefits from TV connectivity and central ceiling lighting. Combining generous proportions with an abundance of original features, this is a superb space for both everyday living and entertaining.

Snug / Entertainment Room

A further reception room is positioned to the right of the hallway and is currently arranged as a cosy snug, offering a wonderful space to relax and unwind. Generously proportioned, it would also lend itself perfectly to use as a games room, playroom, home office or additional sitting room, providing excellent flexibility to suit a variety of lifestyles. The room retains much of its period charm, with high ceilings, decorative coving, picture rails and exposed timber floorboards. A characterful fireplace with a painted exposed brick recess, tiled inset and timber surround creates an attractive focal point, while a sash window to the side elevation fills the room with natural light. A cast iron column radiator completes this inviting and versatile reception space.

Kitchen

Beautifully appointed kitchen is one of the home's standout features, having been newly installed in December 2025 to an exceptional standard by renowned kitchen makers DeVol. Combining timeless design with outstanding craftsmanship, it features elegant black cabinetry with signature Coventry brass handles, complemented by luxurious marble work surfaces and a practical pantry cupboard. An inset Belfast sink with a DeVol hot and cold mixer tap, complete with an integrated rinser, further enhances both the functionality and classic aesthetic of this superb space. Integrated appliances include a dishwasher, while a bespoke pantry cupboard with fitted shelving and traditional tin-lined storage provides excellent practicality. A dedicated cooking area to accommodate a large Rangemaster range cooker, framed by an original exposed brick archway. Ample space for an American-style fridge freezer. Two cast iron radiators and retains its original quarry tiled floor and slate cold slab/heath.

Utility

From the kitchen, a door leads into the utility area, which is fitted with base units and complementary worktops, along with a stainless steel sink and drainer with mixer tap. There is plumbing and space for a washing machine and tumble dryer, splashback tiling, and vinyl flooring. A wall mounted boiler, installed new shortly after the current owners moved in, is also located here, and there is a single glazed wooden framed sash window to the side elevation, along with a door leading to the rear.

Boot Room

A door from the kitchen leads into a useful boot room, providing practical storage and currently accommodating a freezer. Benefiting from a frosted window to the side elevation and access to the loft space, this versatile room is ideal for everyday household storage and country living. From here, is access to the:
