Studley Green is a village within the Chiltern Hills set in between Stokenchurch and West Wycombe with countryside walks on it's doorstep. Opposite the property is a bridleway into woodland, with a nature reserve beyond. Closeby is a range of local amenities, including cafes, shops and public houses and the house is in catchment for an Ofsted outstanding primary school. It is an ideal commuter location, especially for those wanting to be on the outskirts of a busy town, given that it is flanked by both High Wycombe and Princes Risborough. M40 Junction 5 is at the northern end of the village making it ideal for access to both Oxford and the M25 at Junction 1A. Wycombe is the larger of the two towns and has grown into a significant regional town, with superb amenities that make it the envy of many of its neighbours. Secondary schooling, as well as the excellent Chiltern Railway service that reaches London Marylebone in under half an hour have been major draws for people looking to relocate to the area from all parts of the United Kingdom.
