Situated in a popular village location, this character semi detached cottage benefits from well proportioned family living accommodation. There are three bedrooms, one with an en-suite, two reception rooms, a galley style kitchen and a family bathroom. The property is double glazed and this is complemented by air source heating and owned solar panels. Externally there is a lovely enclosed front garden and parking.

We are delighted to bring to market this cosy and conveniently located three bedroom (one with en-suite) Cornish cottage, originally built in c.1840. Offering much character and with open joist ceilings throughout, the current vendor has added modern upgrades in the form of an air source heat pump and roof mounted solar panels. The front entrance takes you into a galley style kitchen that includes a Belfast sink and a convenient breakfast bar overlooking the front aspect. Thereafter, there is open access to the first reception room come diner at the heart of which is a multi fuel burner set in a striking inglenook fireplace. Access is gained from here to the downstairs family bathroom as well as the open staircase to the first floor. There is a second reception room/lounge which has a far reaching outlook over open countryside to the west and ample room for your choice of furniture. The open stairs that give access to the first floor are of a unique three way split level design to access the three bedrooms. The first bedroom has a built-in wardrobe, the far reaching views to the west as well as access to the loft through a fixed staircase. Bedroom two is also at the front of the property and has a built-in wardrobe with open views towards St. Ives and the north coast. The third bedroom is to the rear and has the added benefit of an en-suite shower room. In terms of location, within a short walk of the property, the village of Four Lanes has a convenience store with Post Office, the local primary school and two public houses.
