welcome to

Ancaster Crescent, New Malden

Set on one of New Malden's most peaceful residential crescents, this larger than average, Tudor influenced semi detached home combines generous living space, a full width rear extension & an impressively large rear garden, creating a great opportunity for families seeking comfort & future potential.

Behind the attractive frontage and wide block paved driveway, a storm porch opens into a bright, welcoming hallway. The bay fronted through reception offers flexible living and dining zones, while the full width kitchen-diner at the rear provides an ideal everyday family hub, with direct access to the garden. A separate utility room and a modern downstairs shower room add valuable practicality.

Upstairs, two well proportioned double bedrooms - both with built in storage - are complemented by a third bedroom and a family bathroom. The property retains side access and offers clear scope for a future loft conversion, subject to planning.

The west facing garden is a genuine highlight: unusually large for the area, beautifully established, and wonderfully private. It's quiet enough to hear birdsong - a rare quality for a London home - and offers ample space for play, entertaining, or landscaping ambitions.

Ancaster Crescent is a true local secret: tucked away and peaceful, yet exceptionally well connected. Motspur Park station (0.7 miles) sits in Zone 4 with frequent trains into central London, with direct services to Wimbledon, Clapham Junction and London Waterloo. The A3 corridor is moments away, and the area is known for its friendly community feel, green spaces and excellent access to amenities.
