Oddendale Cottage is a fabulous, spacious and lovingly renovated grade 2 listed cottage extended into the adjoining barns, in a small hamlet of traditional stone cottages in the uplands between Shap and Crosby Ravensworth, on the edge of the Westmorland Dales National Park and enjoys a peaceful environment with superb open views of the surrounding countryside and walking on Crosby Ravensworth Fell.

Dated 1776, but probably older, the original cottage was bounded on each side by stone barns, which have now been included in the accommodation to create a magnificent and characterful home, more than good enough to shame many a property in Country Living and will suit many different needs. One of the stand out rooms is an enormous, light and airy Kitchen-Dining Day Room, around 400 Sq. ft, ideal for any large family and the mix of reception rooms allows privacy and a retreat when needed.

Set in 0.845 of an acre, there is ample space outside for several vehicles, including motorhomes, and there is a newly constructed steel framed open barn, perfect for keeping them undercover, with an adjoining garage and a workshop. The grounds include a paddock, just under half an acre, and a beautiful cottage garden area,

Part of the renovation was to ensure that this special home was brought right up to date, being insulated throughout and heated by an air source heat pump, which help to give an impressive EPC rating of C, without losing any of the character and charm.
