Woodside Tower

Shore Road , Cove , Helensburgh, Argyll And Bute. G84 0NS

The West Coast of Scotland is known for its spectacular scenery with Argyll and Bute offering some of the most staggering vistas. Woodside Tower is positioned on the shore front within the picturesque village of Cove and enjoys uninterrupted views over Loch Long and the Firth of Clyde.

Originally dating back to the early 1850's the B listed building known as Woodside was successfully converted into three dwellings in the 1960's with this particular property now known as Woodside Tower being one of the largest created at over 2,200 square feet of accommodation which also retains the amazing tower which has triple aspects and magical internal spiral staircase accessed from the lounge.

Woodside Tower has a main door entrance to the rear of the building with the property being set over three levels. The clever configuration of the property has allowed the current owners to utilise an area as a successful Airbnb.
