Immaculate top-floor apartment in sought-after Langdon Hills, redesigned throughout, under a mile to Laindon station with direct London links, allocated parking and superb A127 access. Move straight in.

Welcome to Northampton Grove – the top-floor superstar you didn't know you were waiting for. Positioned in ever-popular Langdon Hills, this immaculate apartment is less than a mile from Laindon railway station, whisking you straight into London Fenchurch Street – because city access should be easy, not epic.

This flat offers the rare advantage of a share of the freehold — giving you real ownership and control, not just over your home but the building itself. Say goodbye to ground rent and unnecessary service charges, with residents managing things sensibly and efficiently. It's a smarter, more empowering way to own your home.

From the moment you step inside, it's clear the current owners haven't just "kept it nice" — they've redesigned, refined and reimagined. Every finish feels intentional. Every detail feels curated. This isn't a quick lick of paint and hope for the best — this is a home that's been thoughtfully elevated.

Being top floor? That's not just a flex — it's peace, privacy and a little extra security. No upstairs neighbours doing midnight marathons. Just calm, quiet living with that subtle sense of "best seat in the house."

The layout flows effortlessly, blending style and practicality. It's bright, beautifully presented and completely move-in ready — the kind of place where you unpack, pop the kettle on and immediately feel at home.

Allocated parking? Tick. Easy access to the A127? Tick. Shops close by for those "just popping out" moments? Big tick.

This is low-maintenance, high-style living — perfect for first-time buyers, savvy commuters or anyone who appreciates a home that's already done the hard work for them.

If homes had Instagram feeds, this one would be verified.
